Logging In

PLEASE NOTE: Access to partnering requires that delegates use their company/professional email address.

Click here to reset your password.

You will receive an email confirmation with login instructions within 1-2 business days after registering for the event. If you registered prior to the opening of the partnering system, you will receive this email confirmation once the system is open.

Your partnering login email is not the same as your registration confirmation/receipt.

If you have already used the partnering system at a previous event, you may use the same password. The email will also contain a link to reset your password in case you have forgotten it.

If this is your first time using BIO One-on-One Partnering, you will need to set your password using the link provided in the email.

2. Include a message (optional)
3. Click Decline Request

“Reply Only”
Click “Reply Only” to continue a conversation, ask a question, or follow-up on an existing meeting request. This allows you to add an additional comment or question, or respond to the thread without changing the request’s status.

Share your contact information directly with a specific company.
Updating Meetings

Request a meeting be rescheduled in the Message Center by clicking on “Request Reschedule”

Edit the required and optional meeting participants from your company

Link topical content from your Company Profile

Click Share my contact information to provide your personal contact details with this specific company

The system will be open for 1 year after the conference for your follow up and data review/collection
NEW: Optional Meeting Participants

You can now mark a meeting participant as optional on your meeting requests, allowing you to prioritize meeting attendance and get more meetings scheduled.

This is especially helpful for groups and those with busy colleagues and limited availability for meetings.

1. Click "Edit" in the participants section on a meeting request
2. Select a colleague (or yourself) and their participation type specific to that meeting - Required or Optional
3. Click “Save”
Meetings display on your Calendar with a Required/Optional indicator.

It is possible to have more than one meeting on your calendar at the same time if you are marked as optional. There will be only one required meeting on your calendar at any one timeslot.

A few more details about this new feature:

- Optional participants receive all of the scheduling notifications for the meeting, including the Outlook email invitations.

- Scheduling will reference the mutual availability of the required participants only, cutting down on unschedule-able meetings without mutual availability.

- Required v. optional is also noted on your schedule printout and outlook/email calendar invitations.
Attend Your Meetings

When on site at the conference, there are a few different ways to locate your meeting information and get your partnering schedule:

1. Find the meeting invitation in your personal calendar (Outlook, Google, etc.)

2. Download the BIO One-On-One Partnering mobile app, on the Apple App Store or Google Play Store, to see your most up-to-date partnering calendar

3. Use the terminal computers near the partnering customer service desk to get a schedule printout

4. You can always reference your calendar by logging into the partnering system on your computer
